will long remember the journey that brought me to contentment and majesty to my life. I left the mountains of the North and traded them for mere hills - rolling off into the distance as far as the eye could see. These hills, covered in tall grasses would whisper with the slightest touch of wind - and - what could happen in such a moment was breathtaking. Slowly the wind would pick up strength and the grasses would transform into the sea: rolling - waving - churning on and on giving form to a power none can ever lay eyes upon...

In such a moment, I lost my hold on time. My eyes focused and visions of a past - beyond that recorded in history - formed in the vast space before me. Time ran in reverse as the land came to life, whispering in a language lost in the passing of time. But understanding exact words was not necessary, for the land speaks in such strong emotions, one only has to feel the story to understand. And thus a legend was told - from the very beginning lasting as long as the wind would allow...

The legend was made of endless stories, painting a vivid vision of the area's history. The grasses spoke of the elder trees and youthful flowers, accepting breezes running in from the meadow, while birds of all species formed a chorus high above in a cloudless, sapphire sky. They spoke of endless animals all sharing the a land of meadows, forests, streams and ponds, all connected as Mother Nature planned...

The stories went on with times of storm and of renewal - of the first stone house to intrude on Nature's solitude. A small, two-story home to a family who took care to respect their surroundings. Today, Nature takes back this ancient structure - for the roof is gone - the walls now used as an intricate trellis for vines. The whole thing a beautiful cycle - holding its own stories for yet another time...

I would have listened to the wind's voice endlessly, for my soul was never at such ease, but the world shifted, the grasses stopped swaying and I lost the voice in the endless fields. And so, the feelings I felt - the emotions passed from Nature to me - have forever preserved these Lasting Legends in my enlivened soul. A soul that will endlessly dream of those gently rolling hills and the voice that spoke with magic - whispering visions of a spectacular time when all of creation existing with Nature's harmonious rhythm.

Dedication

led at Bob Jones University, earning both a B.A. and M.A. in Bible Studies. In 1966, he received his Doctorate of Philosophy in Old Testament Texts, also from Bob Jones. Throughout his career at Delaware Valley, Dr. Ziemer has taught a wide variety of courses including Philosophy, Psychology, Sociology, numerous English topics, and most well-known by students...Speech. Even with such a diverse number of courses, he has also served as a Department Chair and pursued a Master's of Education from Temple University, completed in 1973.

Dr. Ziemer's teaching load may seem highly developed and time-consuming, but his involvement on campus proves that some can people can fit more than twenty-four hours in a single day. He has served as the Advisor to Ram Pages, annually performs with the DVC Chorale and entertains students with his singing and comedy at the yearly SAC Talent Show. He has participated in Pride & Polish, A Day and writes for the Gleaner, Del Val's literary publication, compiled annually. He has also participated in the first ever Del Val Arts Fest, serving as a prime supporter of the event.

If the terms pride and honor hold to their ancient meanings, Dr. Ziemer must then be considered a prime example of what these words mean. Without a doubt, he has served his role on our campus with a dedication and desire not commonly seen on a regular basis. It is safe to say that Dr. Ziemer loves teaching and avidly partakes in all activities related to the profession. Students for years to come will remember the classes taught by this year's dedicatee and will wait for the traditional birthday wishes Dr. Ziemer never forgets to send.

As such, the Cornucopia Staff wishes to dedicate "Lasting Legends" to Dr. Richard Ziemer for his love for and pride in Delaware Valley College and his never-ending dedication and drive to reach out to all of his students. As time moves forward, some classes will fade from memory, yet it is this staff's opinion that any class taken with this Professor will vividly live on well into the future. Time has no power to erode and wear away memories of those who strive to inspire and succeed...

Introduction...

Imagine a world fresh and new, where all the elements of past civilization have been washed away from the surface, providing the next generation with a clean slate to begin again. What would that world look like...feel like...be like? As people living in the 21st century, we have the opportunity to look back and see what has taken ages for civilization to accomplish. Our prime examples of architecture, art, music, nature, and human ingenuity all blend into a rich history of stories, mysteries and miracles. These are the legends of our past. And it is these legends that define the character of our civilization and our place in the world.

How do most legends begin? How is it that we can recall the stories of ancient Greece and Rome without having "hard evidence" that some may say is needed? Are legends just fiction, or could they have their roots buried deep in the truth, so deep we lack the ability to uncover them? What if we could see how every myth...every legend known today...first began? How would these stories change and redefine the present? Could we glean more from our past to impact our future? Some legends tell of mythic places and creatures that are today dismissed as the workings of the imagination. But what if these places really existed? Imagine having the chance to travel to distant realms, where strange and unique cultures flourish...where the impossible is always possible, where the limits of our own abilities are truly unknown and unreachable. Then imagine having the power to write your own legend to be passed down from generation to generation.

While our reality for now seems to limit us to what the Earth can offer, the truth is each and every one of us has already begun writing our individual legends. Some will become great leaders, others discoverers. Some will become heroes, performing tasks that once may have been thought impossible. Regardless of what your legend may be, the truth is - it has already started to take form. What that form develops into can only be decided by you, your experiences, and what you wish to leave behind as your mark - your distinguishing feature.

Be it known that those who hold this book in their hands have written a very special chapter. Our legends are intertwined, dependant on one another, as we have spent years together living and dreaming at the same institution. Our memories of Delaware Valley College will long be preserved between the covers of this book, and as time passes, these memories will morph into a distinct part of our legends. These legends will go on into the future as our mark, our distinct impression on the world around us.

Continue to develop memories that will add to the power of your legend. For these lasting legends are the offerings we pass to future generations. And from our legends, inspiration will lead those after us into the unknown future - where anything may be possible...

“Legends die hard. They survive as truth rarely does...”

Academics

ongratulations to the members of the Delaware Valley College graduating class of 2007. You have been prepared very well at DVC to enter the world of work or to continue your formal education in graduate or professional school. I offer my best wishes to you for continued success as you continue to work toward your goals.

It has been very rewarding for me to observe your growth during your time here at DVC. You have grown both socially and intellectually, developed organizational skills, and have learned to work together toward common goals. It is my hope that your learning and growth at DVC will serve as an inspiration to you as you go forward. I encourage you never to lose your desire for learning.

While your Commencement is a major milestone in your life, it is a beginning and not an end. You have much to look forward to and many opportunities to seize.

Again, I offer my best wishes to each of you for a bright and happy future and ask that you remember and support your alma mater in the coming years.

Sincerely,

Dr. Thomas C. Leamer ~ President.

Dear Members of the Class of 2007:

What an exciting time for each of you! You have achieved a major milestone in your life's journey and as you savor this moment you can anticipate the opportunities and possibilities ahead.

The education you have received at Delaware Valley College has prepared you very well for your next challenges, whether work or graduate study. You have gained academic knowledge as well as practical experience, a valued combination of skills that will serve you well. In you, our College mission has been realized. You have been prepared for "meaningful personal and professional lives and leadership roles in service to the community" and beyond. Appreciating the "importance and necessity of lifelong learning" will assure a future that is rich with new experiences, challenges, and adventures.

A quote among the writings of Mark Twain is one that has special meaning at this time in your lives as you graduate: "Twenty years from now you will be more disappointed by the things you didn't do than by the ones you did do. So throw off the bowlines. Sail away from the safe harbor. Catch the trade winds in your sails. Explore. Dream. Discover."

Congratulations and best wishes as you embark on a new path in your life journey!

DEANS

WARRANTIES

Dear Class of 2007:

I congratulate you on achieving this important milestone in your respective professional careers. Receiving a Bachelor of Science Degree is the first step in achieving career goals and aspirations. The friends that you have made at Delaware Valley College will hopefully be life-long friends. The memories that you took along with you will forever be a part of your psyche and we hope they are kind and complimentary memories. It's been said that friends and memories are two of life's most precious treasures and the older we grow the more precious they become.

As each of you begin your careers, remember that you'll need to continue your education to keep on the cutting edge of your respective fields of employment. This means attending workshops, seminars, conventions, forums, additional classes, acquiring a Masters Degree or even a Ph.D., because education is a life-long process. When I attended Delaware Valley College, much of what I learned then is now obsolete. Hence, the reason one needs to continue the educational process.

As you pursue your respective career paths, don't ever underestimate the power of positive thinking. There will be times when you will experience stress and frustrations; however, a positive attitude will contribute towards making a negative into a positive. Each of you is very special in your own way, and I am very confident that you will make us all DVC proud. Wish you all the very best as you begin your professional careers. Remember your alma mater and do not forget to visit us.

Dean of Agriculture and Environmental Science*

Dr. Elizabeth Arrison -- Dean of Students

Dear Members of the Class of 2007:

It seems like just the other day you were wondering what school or institute you would attend. Where will you go to school? Somewhere, or isn't that? You made the decision to come here to Delaware Valley College. It was a decision that from this point forward will now define you as a part of this wonderful institution. You have come a long way from the wide-eyed freshmen or uncertain transfer students I greeted at Orientation. Back then you were wondering if you had made the right decision in choosing Delaware Valley College and here you are a few short years later prepared for whatever awaits you. I know that you have learned a great deal in the intervening years. You have gained a technical expertise in your chosen field, and you have developed the leadership and interpersonal skills that will serve you well. You can take pride in the degree you have earned. Statistics show that the time and money you have invested in yourself will now begin to pay off with more career options, better promotion opportunities and higher overall earnings than your friends who did not stick it out to see this day. When you look back at your time spent here, I hope it will be with fond memories of good times and good friends. And I hope that those of us in Student Affairs have had a positive impact on your experience here. Be assured, we are better for having known you. Best of luck in all you do.

To the Class of 2007:

Congratulations on achieving this milestone! Your education here at DVC has prepared you well for your future. As you move forward with this next chapter in your life, I would offer this advice:

1. Remember that success requires hard work, and the things that matter most in life are those that you earn yourself. No one will ever accuse you of having too strong of a work ethic.
2. Give back to others. Take pride in volunteering your time in your community and those organizations with which you have a special connection.
3. Be true to yourself. Never hesitate to stand firm on your convictions.
4. Take the high road in times of conflict. It may be the path less traveled, but you will never have to apologize for using it.
5. Celebrate and cherish your family and friends. At the end of your life, you will never regret the time you have spent with those who are dear to you and who support you along your journey.

Please remember to keep in touch with your alma mater. We look forward to your support in the years to come!

I wish each of you much happiness and success, both personally and professionally, now and in the future.

The Delaware Valley College cheerleading team finished 2007 with a bang at the 2007 Reach The Peak Cheerleading Competition and finished second out of 13 teams in their division.

The Aggies battled with Nassau Community College (NY) in the all-girl, small college advanced division.

Delaware Valley competitors were Kristin Antonaccio, Jess Brown, Siobhan Carroll, Lisa LaFollette, Ashley Groff, Kelly Harding, Joss Hollway, Sarah Parisi, Trisha Pritts, Sara Schwartz, Lisa LaFollette, Vrabel, Ashley Vulpi, Brandy Wakeman and C.J. Yoder.

The Delaware Valley College cheerleading team competed at the 2007 Reach The Peak March 23-24 weekend and took top honors at one while placing second at another.

The Aggies topped two others teams for first place accolades at Sunday's Keystone State Spring Cheer Championships just one day after finishing second out of three teams at the Mid Atlantic Cheer "Cheer Invasion".

Sunday's championship saw Delaware Valley best a co-ed team from Marywood University, and a squad from College Mercier. One of the Aggies' stunt groups took home the trophy in the Individual Stunt Group Category. Members of the group were Jen DeLuca, Ashley Groff, Sarah Schwartz, Sarah Vrabel, and C.J. Yoder.

That same stunt group also took top honors at Saturday's meet. As a team, Delaware Valley competed in the Open Division, went up against the Triple Threat All-Stars and the Thunder Lite Open All-Stars and placed second.

Sports

The Delaware Valley College men's and women's cross country teams, under head coach Ed Andrawlewich, recently wrapped up the 2006 campaign. The Aggie women placed 11th out of 14 teams at the Middle Atlantic Conference (MAC) Championships while the men finished 12th. Both the men and women placed second at the Albright College Invitational with the women also finishing as the runner-up at the Gwynedd-Mercy College Invitational (October 7).

Freshman Brittany Schwartz earned all-MAC, second-team accolades as she placed 15th out of 132 competitors at the conference championships with a 6K race time of 26 minutes, 53.58 seconds. She took top honors at the Gwynedd-Mercy Invitational with a 5K race time of 21 minutes, 16 seconds. Schwartz also placed second at the Albright Invitational (25:55.44) and third at the Metro Meet (20:40.81).

Sophomore Sara Brown, who placed 65th at the MAC's last year, improved in 2006 as her time of 28 minutes, 13.79 seconds was good enough for 45th place. Brown was also fifth at both the Gwynedd-Mercy Invitational (22:17) and the Albright Invitational (25:55.44). Sophomore Katie Lemoncelli and freshman Amanda Barr rounded out the Aggie scorers at the MAC Championships. Lemoncelli was 84th with a time of 30 minutes, 5.17 seconds while Barr's time of 34 minutes, 12.72 seconds placed her 114th. Melissa Flourde, Michelle Boderok, and Nicola Proino are competed at the conference event.

Sophomore Rachel Federico had a strong season for the Aggies. She placed sixth at the Gwynedd-Mercy Invitational (22:18) and was seventh at the Albright Invitational (26:02.8). Freshman Meghan Hunsiker and sophomore Jennifer Del Polito were solid competitors for Delaware Valley. Hunsiker had a top 6K time of 27 minutes, 20.62 seconds as she placed 14th at the Delaware Valley Invitational. Del Polito's best time in the 6K took place at the Husky Invitational as she ran the course in 28 minutes, 54 seconds.

Senior Crystal Craig and sophomore Nicole Geil rounded out the women's roster for the Aggies. Craig competed at five events with her best finish coming at the 5K Metro Meet (28:20.06). Geil ran at three invitationals, including the Metro Meet (26:29.97).

The Delaware Valley men's roster was paced all season long by freshman Chip Brumbaugh (Hatboro, PA/Upper Merland). Brumbaugh placed 57th out of 140 runners at the MAC Championships with an 8K race time of 30 minutes, 31.79 seconds. His best finish of the year was a third-place showing out of 62 competitors at the Albright Invitational (29:25). Brumbaugh also took sixth at the Gwynedd-Mercy Invitational (30:25).

Sophomore Kevin Weber improved 15 spots from last year's conference championship as he placed 76th with a time of 34 minutes, 10.02 seconds. Weber placed 11th at the Gwynedd-Mercy Invitational with a time of 31 minutes, 10.02 seconds. He was one of the top Aggie runners. He crossed the conference

Sports

The Delaware Valley College field hockey team is under the direction of new head coach Carol Di Girolamo. The Aggies went 10-9 overall and qualified for the Freedom Conference playoffs with a 4-3 league mark.

Di Girolamo came to Delaware Valley following a six-year stint at Neumann. She led the Aggies to a record-tying, five-game winning streak early in the season, and then saw her squad clinch a playoff berth with back-to-back conference wins over FDU-Florham and Drew University.

Delaware Valley dropped a 6-3 decision at eventual Freedom Conference champion King's College in the semifinals, but Di Girolamo was named the conference's Coach of the Year for her efforts. Delaware Valley also took home another conference award as Bethany Pavlik was named the Freedom Conference Rookie of the Year and a second-team, all-conference selection. Pavlik, a freshman midfielder, finished second on the team in both goals and points and led the way in game-winning tallies with three. Her average of 0.63 goals per game ranked sixth in the Freedom Conference, while her 1.42 points per contest ranked ninth.

Sophomore forward Michelle Cernohl and senior defender Dawn Eddis had big campaigns and were first-team, all-Freedom Conference honorees for the first time in their careers. Cernohl paced the Aggies with 13 goals and 29 points and placed in the conference's top five in each category. She was named the Freedom Conference Player of the Week for the last week of the regular season as she scored four goals in two games, including a hat trick in the playoff-clinching win over Drew. Cernohl then followed with two goals in the playoff loss to King's.

Eddis led a Delaware Valley defense that notched five shutouts on the season, including wins over Freedom Conference foes Wilkes University and FDU-Florham. Eddis was one of five seniors who ended their collegiate careers in 2006. Joining her on that list were Shannon Shivak, Bobbie Fultz, Abby Pensinger and Krista Palmer. One of the top midfielders in Aggie history, Shivak finished second in the Freedom Conference and set a Delaware Valley single-season record with nine assists in 19 games. She also added five goals to finish tied for third on the team in scoring with 19 points. Shivak ended her career with 19 goals and 16 assists for 54 points. Fultz, a forward had the biggest season of her Delaware Valley career as she scored eight goals and assisted on three others for 19 points - tying Shivak for third on the team. For her career, Fultz totaled 17 goals and six assists for 40 points. A four-year letterwinner and three-year starter, Pensinger was a key component to the Delaware Valley defense and led the squad with seven defensive saves. Palmer, a midfielder/forward, rejoined the squad after a year off and assisted on one goal for one point in 14 games.

The Delaware Valley College football team was picked to finish in a tie for third place in the 2007 Middle Atlantic Conference (MAC) preseason coaches' poll that was announced earlier today at the conference's media luncheon at King's College.

The Aggies, who won the conference title in both 2004 and 2005 and finished second last season, received one of the eight, first-place votes and registered 34 total points in the poll. That put them in a tie with King's for the third spot.

Defending MAC champion and nationally-ranked Wilkes University garnered five, first-place votes and finished atop the poll with 55 points. Widener University received the remaining two, first-place votes and placed second with 47 points.

The entire 2007 MAC preseason coaches' poll is as follows:

1. Wilkes University — 55 points
2. Widener University — 47 points
- 3. Delaware Valley College — 34 points
3. King's College — 34 points
5. Lebanon Valley College — 33 points
6. Lycoming College — 31 points
7. Albright College — 25 points
8. FDU-Florham — 16 points

Delaware Valley, under second-year head coach Jim Clements, returns 30 letterwinners, including 10 starters, from last year's squad

Delaware Valley begins its 2007 season on Saturday, September 1 (1:00 p.m.) when it travels to Division I-AA foe Iona College. Non-conference road games at Division III powers Wesley College and Salisbury University follow before conference play begins on Saturday, September 29 (1:00 p.m.) when the Aggies host King's.

Sports

The Delaware Valley College women's soccer team, under head coach Kevin Doherty, recently concluded its 2006 season. The Aggies were 5-1-2 overall and 2-3-2 in the Freedom Conference.

Delaware Valley remained in contention for its second straight conference playoff berth until the last day of the regular season. Following a 0-0 tie with conference regular-season champion HPU-Florham (October 18), the Aggies needed a win at The University of Scranton on October 28 to reach the postseason. However, the team suffered a 2-0 setback to the eventual Freedom champions.

Sophomores Elise Dauber and Emily Perryman had standout seasons for Delaware Valley and earned spots on the all-Freedom Conference team. Dauber, a forward, was named to the first team for the first time in her career as she led the Aggies and was ranked in the conference's top 10 with 10 goals and five assists for 25 points. Her goal and point totals were tied for second in the Freedom while her five assists tied her for eighth. With 44 career points, Dauber is just five shy of passing 2001 graduate Britt Ingverteen for fifth place on the school's all-time list.

Perryman, who was the conference's Rookie of the Year and a first-team honoree last season, was named to the second team for '06. She battled through injuries and played both all over the field for the Aggies this season. She finished with one goal for two points and helped the squad notch five shutouts. All five of those shutouts were recorded in net by junior Emily Joyce and she will enter her senior season with 11 career shutouts - just two shy of tying 2001 graduate Colleen Keams' school record. Joyce played every minute in net this season and led the Freedom Conference in both saves (155) and save percentage (.853). She also tied for third in shutouts and was sixth with a 1.58 goals against average.

Sophomore midfielder/forward Christine Del Turco followed her two-goal, six-point rookie campaign with seven goals and six assists for 20 points. She was third in the conference in assists, seventh in scoring and eighth in points. Del Turco also tied for fourth with three game-winning goals, including the overtime tally in a 1-0 triumph at Drew University on September 26 for the team's first-ever win over the Kangars.

Fellow sophomore Nicki Martini finished third on the team in scoring as the midfielder recorded three goals and assisted on another for seven points.

Freshmen Cortney Bower and Ashley Gagliano rounded out the Aggie scorers as they had one goal for two points apiece. Bower, a goalkeeper by trait, started all 19 games at midfield while Gagliano saw action on defense in 16 contests (four starts).

Sophomores Kristin Warner and freshman Izabella Minnich started all 19 games on defense and helped hold opponents...

Junior Christine Gregory and freshman Jennifer Bright greatly contributed to the Aggie defense as well. Gregory started all 17 contests that she played in while Bright saw time in 14 games including a trio of starts.

Sports

Delaware Valley College head coach Kalman Csapo has nine returning letterwinners and a solid group of newcomers on the roster as the Aggies look to put a pair of disappointing seasons behind them. The squad went 0-18-1 in both 2004 and 2005, including an 0-7 mark in Freedom Conference play last year.

Heading the cast of returnees is senior captain Nick D'Amato (Penns Park, PA/Council Rock). D'Amato started 16 games in net a season ago and led the Freedom Conference with 158 saves. He also added a 3.72 goals against average.

Fellow senior Mick Hannan (Norristown, PA/Archbishop Carroll) was the team's leading scorer in 2005 as he tallied five goals and one assist for 11 points.

Junior captains Gospel Nwogwugwu (Baltimore, MD/Milford Mill Academy) and Chris Wellington (Baltimore, MD/Milford Mill Academy) return after each missed most of the '05 campaign with injuries.

Nwogwugwu, a defender, saw time in just three games while Wellington, a midfielder/forward, played in five games and had one for two points.

Junior defender Ken Dilts (Robbinsville, NJ/Lawrence) played in all 19 games last year while junior midfielder Trevor Provost (Allentown, NJ/Allentown) and sophomore defenders Kyle Steele (Mattituck, NY/Mattituck) and Jon Trotta (Vernon, NJ/Sussex County Tech) appeared in 13 games apiece.

Senior David Keefer (Cleona, PA/Annville-Cleona) returns to his forward position after seeing time in 10 contests last season.

Sports

The Delaware Valley College volleyball team, under head coach Shawn Rush, recently concluded its 2006 season. The Aggies went 12-12 overall and 0-6 in the Freedom Conference.

It was the first non-losing season for Delaware Valley since the 1998 squad posted a 15-12 record. The Aggies, with just one senior on the roster, notched a pair of three-game winning streaks during the year.

Junior Andrea Held played in 77 of the team's 84 games and led the squad in kills, service aces and blocks while also adding 87 digs and 12 assists. Her averages of 0.87 service aces per game led the Freedom Conference and she also ranked sixth in kills and seventh in hitting percentage.

Fellow junior Bonnie Zobel was right behind Held as she placed second in the conference in service aces with 65 in 84 games. Zobel also placed sixth in the Freedom with 607 assists and she added 87 kills and 210 digs for the season.

Sophomore Kate Klish and freshman Jaki Blood also placed in the conference's top 10 in various categories. Klish notched 411 digs in 82 games to finish second in the Freedom Conference. She also contributed 26 service aces, 25 assists and seven aces.

Blood was sixth in the league with 45 service aces in 81 games. The rookie also had 102 kills, 187 digs, 20 assists and 11 blocks on the year.

Fellow freshman Angel Bulger also had a strong rookie campaign as she placed second on the team in kills with 136. She also recorded 165 digs, 36 service aces, 20 assists and 16 blocks.

Juniors Jackie Holdsworth and Stephanie Knox played in 80 and 77 games respectively. Holdsworth's 124 kills ranked third on the team and she also added 148 digs, 44 service aces, 17 assists and 11 blocks. Knox notched 99 kills, 26 digs and 25 blocks.

Danielle Ford and Nicole Gardner had productive freshman campaigns for the Aggies. Ford saw time in 23 games and recorded 35 kills and six digs while Gardner had 50 kills, 45 digs and 14 service aces in 44 appearances.

Senior Lauren Silio wrapped up her collegiate career in 2006. She played in 14 games and contributed nine kills, 25 digs and three service aces.

Senior Ashley Lutz also finished the season with a strong performance. She notched 100 kills in two games before the end of the season with six digs.

Four starters are back for head coach Laura Hogan and the Delaware Valley College women's basketball team as the Aggies aim for a return trip to the Freedom Conference playoffs for the second year in a row and the fifth time in the last six seasons.

Delaware Valley went 17-9 last season, including a 9-5 mark in conference play to finish tied for second place with DeSales University. DeSales held the tiebreaker edge and hosted the Aggies for the Freedom semifinals where their season came to an end with a 61-48 setback.

Senior forward Rachel Joyce (King of Prussia, PA/Upper Merion) heads the group of returnees and the all-Freedom Conference, second-team honoree is just 77 points shy of becoming the ninth player in program history to reach the 1,000-point mark in a career.

Joyce led Delaware Valley and was ranked in the conference's top 10 in both scoring (seventh - 14.1 avg) and rebounding (fourth - 7.9 avg). She also placed in the top 10 in two other categories and reached double figures in scoring in 19 of the 26 contests.

The Aggie backcourt returns in juniors Moira Donohue (Philadelphia, PA/Cardinal Dougherty) and Shannon O'Neill (Langhorne, PA/Council Rock South) as each placed in the conference's top 10 in five categories.

Donohue paced the Freedom with a 1.56 assist-to-turnover ratio while also finishing second in both assists (3.8 avg) and steals (3.0 avg). She also placed eighth in both scoring (13.7 avg) and 3-pointers (1.5 avg).

O'Neill, the 2005 Freedom Conference co-Rookie of the Year, led the conference in both assists (5.3 avg) and 3-point shooting percentage (.429) while placing second in 3-pointers per game (2.3 avg). She also contributed 12 points an outing, including a 31-point performance against national power The University of Scranton.

Junior Brooke Dittmar (Langhorne, PA/Neshaminy) rounds out the returning starters. The forward/center started all 26 games and averaged 4.8 points and six rebounds per contest.

Sophomores Ashley McLeod (Howell, NJ/Freehold Township), Michelle Oyer (Jenkintown, PA/Jenkintown) and Amanda Wilson (Brookhaven, PA/Sun Valley) are back after each saw limited action last year.

Hogan is excited about her recruiting class and believes that the freshmen will make an immediate impact on the team.

Sports

With seven returning letterwinners, all of who saw time as a starter last year, head coach Denny Surovec and the Delaware Valley College men's basketball team will look to improve on its 5-20 record (2-12 Freedom) from a season ago.

Two-time, all-Freedom Conference second-team honoree Isaiah Pinckney (Philadelphia, PA/Bishop McDevitt) heads the cast of returnees. He enters his senior season just 35 points shy of the coveted 1,000-point milestone.

Pinckney led the Aggies and ranked seventh in the conference in scoring with an average of 13.7 points per game. He also ranked in the conference's top 10 in steals (tied for third - 1.88 avg), assists (tied for fifth - 3.7 avg) and free throw percentage (sixth - .756).

Sophomore Jason Seipt (Lansdale, PA/North Penn) returns to the backcourt with Pinckney. The point guard placed eighth in the Freedom Conference with an average of 2.7 assists per game. He also notched 4.1 points and 2.2 rebounds per contest.

Forwards Zack Van Dyke (Arlington, VA/Washington-Lee) and Ryan Walsh (Wayne, PA/Radnor) are coming off productive first seasons with the Aggies.

Van Dyke, a junior transfer, was eighth in the Freedom a year ago in field goal percentage (.486) while also averaging 8.2 points and five rebounds per game. Walsh, a sophomore, made 22 starts last season and averaged 5.5 points and 2.4 rebounds an outing.

Senior Josh Taylor (Fairless Hills, PA/Harry S. Truman) returns in the middle after averaging 4.6 points and 3.3 rebounds in 25 games (11 starts).

Sophomores Ryan Thomas (Phoenixville, PA/Phoenixville) and Bill Gelsomini (Drexel Hill, PA/Upper Darby) round out the returning performance. Thomas, a guard/forward, played in 23 games (one start) last year and averaged 3.9 points and 2.4 rebounds per game. Gelsomini, a guard, started five of the 21 games he played in and averaged 3.1 points per contest.

...some major changes involving the Delaware Valley college wrestling team and fifth-year head coach Harold Totten this upcoming season. For starters, the Aggies will look to qualify its wrestlers for the Division III MAC Championships at a different location. The coaches in the Middle-Atlantic Conference (MAC) were supported by the athletic directors and administrators of each institution in their desire to disband the association with the conference. The teams will no longer be required to wrestle each other nor will the MAC Championships exist. Schools aligned themselves with various regional qualifiers across the country in hopes of having more wrestlers reach the national tournament. Thus, the Aggies will not be sitting for their sixth straight MAC title. Instead, the team will join its peers for the 1997 MAC Championships in mid-

February where 18 to 20 qualifying bids are expected to be handed out among the 14 participating teams (former MAC schools Elizabethtown, Lycoming and Messiah will join the Aggies at the regional). Another change with the Delaware Valley lineup itself as three members of last year's lineup finish their collegiate careers including 197-pound national champion Jamall Johnson and national qualifier Mike Berlanda. Three-time national qualifier Dan Hall will also miss the upcoming season. With those losses, the Delaware Valley roster will have a youthful look to it as 26 of the 33 members of the team are either freshmen or sophomores. Nonetheless, the Aggies and the other Division III coaches have high aspirations for the team as they have been picked in the preseason poll to finish sixth in the country. And with six starters back - including a pair of national qualifiers - and a talented cast of newcomers, Totten is confident as well. "There is a lot of talent in the wrestling room, probably the most since I took over the program," Totten said. "If we stay injury free and progress through the year, we can have a real good season." 125 PoundsSophomore Josh Proctor (Newburg, PA Shippensburg) returns after a solid rookie campaign. Proctor went 9-6 (two pins) and finished as the MAC runner-up in the weight class, placing only behind an eventual All-American. 133 PoundsJustin Shorts (Germansville, PA Northwestern Lehigh) is the front-runner at weight class after going 15-15 and placing fourth at last year's MAC Championships. The sophomore also placed third at the York College Spartan Invitational. Junior Mike Handelman (Crofton, MD Arundel) is also back following a 4-11 record last season. 141 PoundsThe Aggie lineup will be bolstered by senior Ricky LaForge (Pompton Lakes, NJ Indian Hills) who transferred in after a highly-successful stint at Division I Hofstra University. LaForge went 74-27 and qualified for the NCAA Championships on a pair of occasions during his tenure with the Pride. The Division III coaches have already placed him sixth in the weight class in the national preseason rankings.

Another newcomer to watch is freshman Matt Lindsay (Paramus, NJ Paramus), who won 115 matches and was a two-time New Jersey state qualifier in high school. 149 PoundsSophomore Jaryd Steinbacher (Montgomery, PA Montgomery) is one of the two returning national qualifiers on the squad. He finished his rookie campaign with a 13-13 mark (two pins), but came on strong at the end and captured his first MAC title with three victories as the fourth seed. Totten has also been impressed with freshman Bill Woodward (Howell, NJ Howell). Woodward notched a 101-14 record in high school and placed sixth at the New Jersey state championships last season. 157 PoundsRyan Herwig (Glen Burnie, MD Mt. St. Joseph's) is the other returning national qualifier as he transferred in from Gloucester County Community College last season and made an immediate impact with the Aggies. Herwig, now a junior, notched a 22-12 record (10 pins), including a first-place finish at the York College Spartan Invitational. He then won the MAC crown at 157 pounds and was one victory away from a top eight finish and All-American honors at the NCAA Championships. Freshman Mike DiGregorio (Mt. Holly, NJ Rancocas Valley) joins the Delaware Valley program after going 64-10 and qualifying for the New Jersey state championships on a pair of occasions in high school. 165 PoundsSenior captain Ryan Pope (Mt. Holly, NJ Rancocas Valley) moves back down to the weight class after wrestling at 174 pounds last year. Pope tallied a 14-11 record (three pins) and finished third at the MAC tournament. Another wrestler that Totten is high on in this weight class is freshman John Barrett (Brick, NJ Brick Memorial), who placed seventh at the New Jersey state championships in high school. 174 PoundsA pair of sophomores head the weight class in Paul Donnell (Shillington, PA Governor Mifflin) and Greg Miele (Manahawkin, NJ Southern Regional). Donnell bounced back between 174 and 184 pounds a season ago and finished with 6-7 record and second-place finishes at both the Central Jersey Open and the York Invitational. Miele wrestled at 157 pounds as a freshman, placed fourth at both the Central Jersey Open and the York Invitational and ended the year with a 10-9 mark. 184

PoundsBerlanda had his best season with the Aggies at this weight class last year but he has now joined the coaching staff as a student assistant with the end of his eligibility. The cupboard is not bare however as sophomore Martin Porter (Long Branch, NJ Long Branch) and freshman Joe West (Washington, PA Trinity) head the weight class. Porter went 2-6 and placed third at the York Invitational while wrestling at both 184 and 197 pounds. West, who had a third-place finish at last year's Pennsylvania state championships, has quickly impressed the coaching staff in the wrestling room. 197 PoundsReplacing Johnson will not be easy as his two seasons with the Aggies resulted in 50 wins, two MAC titles, a national runner-up and last year's national championship. Johnson has remained with a program as a student assistant as he finishes his degree. Kevin Orr (Quakertown, PA Quakertown) will move down from heavyweight to 197 after a very productive freshman season that saw him win 20 of 28 matches, including 11 by fall. He placed in the top eight at three invitational or opens, including top honors at the Central Jersey Open, and wound up second at the MAC Championships, losing only to a three-time conference champion and two-time All-American junior transfer John Horn (Riverside, NJ Riverside) in the final match. He comes to Delaware Valley after a successful stint at Gloucester County Community College and also wrestled for the Pennsylvania State University in high school. HeavyweightWith Orr moving down a weight class, the battle for heavyweight has opened up. Sophomore Charlie Pendlebury (East Quogue, NY Westhampton Beach) is back after going 4-4 (two pins) and placing fourth at the York Invitational last year.

Pendlebury will be tested by sophomore Kyle Bilquist (Toms River, NJ Toms River South) who transferred from Division I Monmouth University. Bilquist won 119 of 135 matches in high school and placed seventh as a junior at the New Jersey state championships.

The Delaware Valley College softball team and head coach Rich Matarese recently completed a 2006 season. The Aggies went 16-14 overall and a 8-10 for the Freedom Conference playoffs for the first time in 20 years with an 8-6 league mark. Matarese and his young squad (no seniors on the 20-player roster) were picked to finish seventh in the eight-team conference pre-season coaches' poll. However, they notched their first winning season since 1995 and their first conference playoff berth since 1987. Matarese was named the Freedom Conference Coach of the Year for his efforts. Delaware Valley began the season with 11 wins in its first 12 games, including a 4-0 mark in conference play. In the postseason, the Aggies were the fourth seed and led top-seeded and eventual champion King's College 3-0 before dropping a 4-3 decision to the eight-time NCAA qualifiers. The loss dropped the team into the consolation bracket where they suffered a 5-0 setback to 2006 conference champion Wilkes University. Five Delaware Valley players were honored by the Freedom Conference after the season as freshman centerfielder Bethany Pavlik (Lewes, DE Sussex Tech) earned first-team accolades while juniors Kelly Andrews (Bethlehem, PA Bethlehem Catholic), Nicole Dorney (Quakertown, PA Salisbury), Kim Harle (Mohrsville, PA Schuylkill Valley) and Kirstyn Ruhling (Southampton, PA William Tennent) were second-team honorees. Pavlik, who was also a second-team all-conference selection and the rookie of the year in field hockey, played in 26 games (24 starts) and batted .328 with six doubles, a team-high five home runs and 16 RBIs. Her .672 slugging percentage led the team and she was also second in runs scored with 20. Andrews, a third baseman, was named to the second team for the second year in a row. She started 26 games and led the team in batting (.383), on-base percentage (.427), hits (31), doubles (7) and RBIs (19) while placing second in slugging percentage (.617) and home runs (4). Andrews also committed just five errors in 96 chances at the hot corner for a .948 fielding percentage. Dorney earned all-conference honors for the third straight year. The catcher started 28 games and batted .299 with four doubles, two home runs and 17 RBIs. Dorney is already the school's all-time leader in home runs (15) and is just eight RBIs shy of tying the career mark of 83.

Harle and Ruhling picked up all-Freedom honors for the first time in their careers. Harle, a second baseman, played in 27 games (26 starts) and batted .305 with four doubles, 15 runs scored and seven RBIs. She also committed just five errors in 102 chances for a .951 fielding percentage. Ruhling appeared in 15 games with 13 starts as the team's number one starter. She went 6-6 with 34 strikeouts in 84 innings and a 2.25 ERA. During the year, she became Delaware Valley's all-time leader in wins with 22, breaking the mark of 20 set by 1994 grad Kate Flynn. Junior Jennifer Bummer (Allentown, PA Salisbury) returned from a one-year hiatus and played a major role on the pitching staff. She pitched in 15 games with 12 starts and went 7-6 with a 3.01 ERA. Bummer also set a Delaware Valley single-season record as her 71 strikeouts broke the previous mark of 70 set by Tara Shipley in 1995. Freshman Nancy Kaufman (Camp Hill, PA Cedar Cliff) made an immediate impact in the Aggie outfield. She played in 22 games (20 starts) and was second on the team in batting (.344), third in home runs (3) and tied for third in RBIs (16). Kaufman also added five doubles and a .574 slugging percentage. Lacy Miles (Little Marsh, PA Cowanesque Valley) switched from the outfield to first base in her sophomore season and she responded by batting .278 and pacing the team in both runs (21) and doubles (8). She also had one home run and nine RBIs and committed just five errors in 200 chances. Junior Maureen Ferguson (Kunkletown, PA Palmerton) played in 24 games with 20 starts in the outfield and hit .278 with two doubles, three runs scored and eight RBIs. Sophomore Robyn Jackson (Ellicott City, MD Mt. Hebron) and freshman Brittany Stockert (Hawthorne, NY West Lake) split time at shortstop with Jackson also seeing time behind the plate. Jackson played in 29 games (28 starts) and batted .209 with eight runs scored and eight RBIs. Stockert saw time in 21 contests (19 starts) and batted .231 with five doubles, one home run, nine runs scored and 10 RBIs. She also pitched in three games (two starts) and went 2-0 with a 0.95 ERA. Freshman Lauren Fenstermacher (Mohrsville, PA Schuylkill Valley) and sophomore Nikki Zimmerman (Millersville, PA Penn Manor) contributed to the successful season. Fenstermacher, an infielder/outfielder, played in 21 games (12 starts) and batted .343 with seven runs scored and five RBIs. Zimmerman, a pitcher/infielder, took part in seven games and knocked in two runs while going 1-2 on the mound with a 4.47 ERA. Sophomoes Chelsea Yasenchak (Boyertown, PA Boyertown) and Christine Yacco (Kinnelon, NJ Kinnelon) saw time in the Aggie outfield. Yasenchak played in 13 games (eight starts) and hit .154 with two runs scored. Yacco saw time in six games (three starts) and batted .200 with one run scored. Junior Fawn Harner (Salem, NJ Salem) rounded out the Aggie roster along with freshmen Ashley De Angelo (Milnesville, PA Milton Hershey), Arielle Forsyth (Boyertown, PA Oley Valley), Victoria Frunzi (Lansdale, PA North Penn) and Katlyn Tice (New Enterprise, PA Chestnut Ridge). Harner, an outfielder, batted .600 with a triple in four appearances (three starts) while De Angelo, an infielder, started three games and hit .250 with two RBIs. Forsyth, an outfielder who saw mostly time as a pinch-runner, batted .286 with eight runs scored and one RBI in 17 games (five starts). Frunzi played in three games (two starts) and the outfielder scored two runs while Tice, an infielder/outfielder, hit .222 with two home runs and one RBI in 17 games (15 starts).

Delaware Valley College baseball team coach Tom Alvey, recently completed in 2007. The Aggies went 41-22 overall, 9-13 in the Freedom Conference and snapped a program-record consecutive non-losing seasons.

Senior second baseman/pitcher John Persicki (Lansdale, PA North Penn) earned all-Freedom Conference (second team) and all-Mid Atlantic Region (third team) accolades for the second straight season.

Persicketti started all 33 games and batted .350 with eight doubles, 19 runs scored and a team-high 23 RBIs. On the mound, he notched team-highs of five wins (5-3) and 36 strikeouts, en route to a 4.58 ERA. Persicketti ended his two-year career with the Aggies as the program's 11th all-time leading hitter with a .369 average.

Freshman Brent Terlecky (Lansdale, PA North Penn) also earned all-Freedom Conference honors as the outfielder was named to the second team. Terlecky played in 31 games (30 starts) and batted .304 while tying for top honors on the team in both doubles (9) and home runs (3). He also scored 20 runs and knocked in 14.

Junior infielder/outfielder Zach Jakubowski (Audubon, NJ Audubon) started all 33 games and led Delaware Valley in home runs (3). His four triples tied him for third on the school's single list.

batting (.351), slugging (.550), runs scored (23) and triples (4) while tying for top honors in home runs (3). His four triples tied him for third on the school's single list.

Sophomore Kevin Weingart (Belle Mead, NJ Montgomery) and junior Kyle Bobb (Mechanicsburg, PA Cumberland Valley) finished fourth and fifth on the team in batting with .288 and .272 averages.

Weingart, an outfielder, started all 33 games and also tied for the team lead in doubles with nine. He scored and knocked in 21 runs. Bobb, a first baseman, saw action in all 33 games with 31 starts and notched three doubles, one triple, 13 runs scored and 14 RBIs.

Jason Kahr (Whitehall, PA Allentown Central Catholic) and Steve Kinney (Ottsville, PA Pennridge) split time behind the plate with Kinney also seeing a lot of time at third base. Kahr, a sophomore, batted .263 with seven runs scored in 20 games (17 starts). Kinney, a senior, started 31 games and hit .255 with two doubles, 18 runs scored and 10 RBIs.

Kinney and Persicketti were two of five seniors on the Delaware Valley roster as pitchers Dave Keeler (Perkasie, PA Pennridge), Chris White (Clarksville, DE Indian River) and Bryan Balliet (Perkasie, PA Pennridge) rounded out the class.

Keeler appeared in 10 games with seven starts and went 2-4 with one save and a 4.30 ERA. He notched 46 innings on the season and finished fourth on the all-time list with 195 innings. Keeler also tied for fifth with three career saves while his 14 wins placed him eighth.

White is also on the all-time list for innings pitched as his 157 innings placed him 10th. He pitched in eight games (seven starts) this season and went 2-4 with a 5.82 ERA in 38-plus innings of work.

Balliet came out of the bullpen on eight occasions, struck out 14 batters in 16 innings of work and notched a 7.88 ERA.

The remaining two wins of the season were recorded by freshman Sean Tappan (Milton, DE Cape Henlopen) as he went 2-2 with 21 strikeouts and a 3.95 ERA in seven appearances (five starts).

Freshman Jordan Kipp (Reading, PA Muhlenberg) and junior Dan Metague (Southampton, PA Cardinal Dougherty) also started games on the mound for Delaware Valley. Kipp pitched in seven contests with two starts and went 0-2 with one save and a 5.40 ERA. Metague saw time in five games with four starts and went 0-3 with a 10.00 ERA.

Rookie Mike Isgro (Galloway, NJ Absegami) started 31 games between shortstop and the outfield and also made four relief appearances on the mound. He batted .245 with four doubles, 16 runs scored and 15 RBIs while going 0-3 with one save and a 5.14 ERA.

Sophomores Anthony Perry (Dresher, PA Upper Dublin, PA) and Ethan Page (Millbrook, NY Poughkeepsie) each saw starting time in the infield. Perry played in 14 games (10 starts) and batted .226 with three scored and two RBIs while Page hit .128 with six runs scored and two RBIs in 17 games (11 starts).

Fellow sophomore Joel Porambo (Lansford, PA Panther Valley) also saw starting time as the outfielder/catcher played in 24 games (14 starts) and batted .224 with two doubles and five RBIs.

Outfielder Joe Kistler (Lansford, PA Panther Valley) and Brock O'Connell (Perkasie, PA Pennridge) were the primary relievers. Justin Lucas (Royceford, PA Spring-Ford) appeared in 11 games as the Aggie's closer. Kistler, a sophomore, posted 141 strikeouts, a 6.00 ERA and one save, a 2.00 in six at-bats. Lucas, a junior, went 2-0 in 29.1 innings in 31-plus innings of work.

Chris Albaugh (Drexel Hill, PA Monsignor Bonner) and Rob Galdieri (Scranton, PA Bishop O'Hara) came out of the bullpen in five games apiece. Albaugh, a freshman, notched four innings of work, en route to a 9.00 ERA. Galdieri, a sophomore, had a 15.43 ERA in four-plus innings.

Steve Richtmyer (Mayfield, NY Mayfield) rounded out the Aggie roster.

Daniel, a sophomore outfielder, appeared in five games and did not have a hit in four at-bats. DeVito, a sophomore pitcher/outfielder, appeared in two games and did not run in two-plus innings of work. Pacifico, a junior outfielder, and Richtmyer, a freshman first baseman, each made one appearance with one at-bat.

The first two seasons of the Freedom Conference has seen the Delaware Valley College golf team finish first in 2005 and second last season. Last year's runner-up finish also saw the team go a perfect 5-0 in head-to-head meets.

Three conference competitors, including the Freedom individual champion, have graduated, but head coach Doug Linde has two championship-playing returnees and a third letterwinner back on his 2007 roster.

Heading the cast of returnees is senior Joseph Scioscia (West Orange, NJ/West Orange). Scioscia just missed out on all-conference accolades last year as he finished in 11th place at the Freedom Championship with a three-round, 54-hole total of 245. He posted an average of 83.4 strokes over 10 matches last year.

Nick van Hook (Oakland, NJ/Don Prisco Prep) had a solid freshman campaign in '06 as he was third on the team with an average of 81.6 strokes per round and tied for 15th at the Freedom Conference Championships (250). He also had a first-place at this fall's Lebanon Valley College Invitational with a round of 73.

Fellow sophomore Scott Guadagnino (Easton, PA/Wilson) rounds out the returnees. He took part in three matches last year and averaged 88 strokes per round.

Delaware Valley begins its spring season on Monday, March 26 when it battles Swarthmore, Cabrini and Eastern at the Rolling Green Golf Club. The Freedom Conference Championships, with the team champion earning an automatic berth to the NCAA Division III Championships, will take place at Shawnee on the Delaware Valley on April 28 and 29.

The 2007 Delaware Valley College men's track and field team, under head coach Ed Andrewlevich, has three letterwinners back from a squad that placed 10th at last year's Middle Atlantic Conference (MAC) Championships.

Leading the returnees is sophomore Kevin Weber (Telford, PA/Souderton). Weber competed in the 3,000-meter steeplechase at the 2006 MAC Championships and placed 15th with a personal-best time of 10 minutes, 59.49 seconds. He also competed during the year in the 800-meter run (2:06.80) and the 1,500-meter run (4:18.30).

Sophomore Dan Fenstermacher (Grove City, PA/Grove City) and senior Matt Kaiser (Baltimore, MD/West Nottingham Academy) round out the cast of returnees.

Fenstermacher competed in four events last year. He posted a top time of 2 minutes, 20.52 seconds in the 800-meter run and also ran in the 1,500 (4:43.6) and 5,000-meter (18:53.16) as well as the 3,000-meter steeplechase (12:44.80). Kaiser competed in the 100-meter dash last season with a top time of 12.10 seconds.

Delaware Valley opens its season on Saturday, March 24 when it competes at the Richard Stockton College Invitational. The 2007 MAC Championships will be held from May 3 to May 5 at Widener University.

Graduation

May 19, 2007

Congratulations A-Day 2007

Seniors

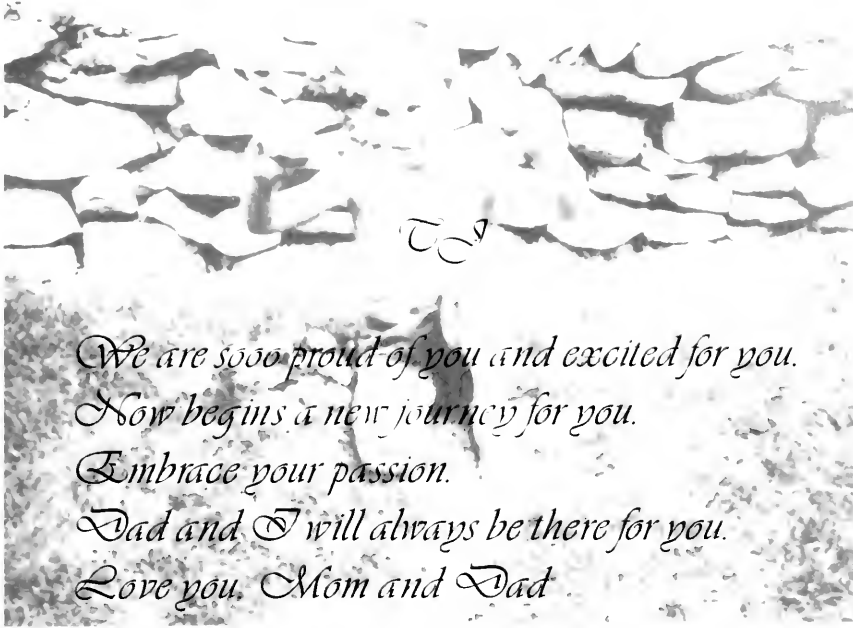

"A"

You made it better than all the "udders!!"

*We are sooo proud of you and excited for you.
Now begins a new journey for you.
Embrace your passion.
Dad and I will always be there for you.
Love you. Mom and Dad*

Justin:

*Congratulations, you made it.
The first step is complete, much success for the future- let your dreams fly.*

Love Mom, Aunt Brenda and Uncle June

Shell,

We're so proud of you in every way- most of all for being you but also not letting money be your direction for choosing a career path but you love of horses. We wish you a lifetime of love, laughter, and happiness.

Love you always and forever
Mom and Dad

Kathryn Roma

Congratulations!

We are so proud of you and all you have achieved.

Love,
Mom & Dad

2011

Angela,

We are so proud of the decisions and achievements you made through your years at Del Val. Work hard and be passionate in all you do in life. Always our love is with you here and in heaven.

Love,
Dad, Mom, and Brittany

Dear Jamie (Kid)

It all started in kindergarten. Such an adorable little lady. Over the years you have made us very proud. Now we look at our Beautiful daughter all grown up and ready to face the big world. Words can't describe how very proud we are of you.

Congratulations Chriss,

We are proud of what you have accomplished.

Mom, Dad, Ang, Sarah, Mark

DIETRICK

Congratulations Allie, on all of your college achievements. You always worked hard and played hard. Continue to aim high in your goals and follow your dreams. We are proud!

Love, ya!

Mom, Dad, & Matt

Kelly Jo,

You are an inspiration to all who cross your path. You know how to live, how to love, and how to trust. We've shared lots of laughs and also lots of tears. We love you because you are you. We love you because you care. We love you because you smile and we love you because you serve. Keep aiming high as The Lord guides you to aim. You'll reach the stars and beyond. We are proud of you and all that you have become.

Lots of Love,
Dad, Mom, Heather, Tim,

CONGRATULATIONS!

Today is your day:
You're off to great places!
You're off and away!

Dr. Seuss

Love, Mom, Dad, Katie, Mike,
We are so proud of you!

So...

Be your name Steven or Jess
You're off to great places!
Today is your day!
Your mountain is waiting
So...get on your way.

Dr. Seuss

Love Mom, Dad, Katie, Mike
Best of luck to you!

MaryElena

Brad,

The years have gone by so quickly. You've matured into a confident, hard-working, and thoughtful man. We are so proud of you. Always remember how much you are loved.

Love
Mom, Dad, and Kate

Can you hear us?
We're the ones cheering the loudest!!! We love you!

Mom, Dad,

To Our "Justin"

It seems like only yesterday that you made your "early arrival" into this crazy, wonderful world and changed our lives forever.

We are so proud of you Just, not only for working so very hard these past four years at DeVal but for being such an inspiration to us all. You truly are "OUR HERO"!

Our wish is that you find happiness and success in all your endeavors and that you be rewarded in life for all the joy you have given to others.

With Pride & All Our Love,
Mom, Dad, Kirsten, Chris, and Makenzie

Dear Jillian,

Congratulations and Best Wishes for a Bright Future!

We are Very Proud of Your Many Accomplishments!

Love,

Dad, Mom, Eric, Wick, BC, and Bunny

Kevin,

We are so proud of you!

Much love Mom,

Kameron, Krystian, and your special Gran-Angel.

Kyle,

We are so proud of you!

CONGRATULATIONS
MEGAN!

I am so proud of you.

YOU'RE MY INSPIRATION!

Love, Hannah (Sissy)

Lee,

*You were a small, fat bundle of joy from the heavens above. The angels knew you were special. As you grew you always looked to the positive of everything.
This in turn widened your horizons and matured you into a wonderful adult. You achieved far more than we could ever ask for. Love & Best Wishes for the future!!*

Mom & Dad

Wendy & Neil

If he could only see how very proud he'd be of his beautiful little girl
The lovely Lauren Leigh

It hasn't been easy
the road was sometimes rough
But you dug down real deep and showed that you were tough

I know that in my heart that you will go real far
I love you with all my heart
You are my shining star

Love and Congratulations
Mom

Erica,

You are a young woman, dedicated, talented and determined to fulfill her dreams.

Congratulations on your graduation.

I hope you feel as proud as I do on this day that you worked so hard for and see the beautiful woman in yourself that others see and are inspired by. I am so proud to have you as my daughter.

Love,
Mom

WE ARE SO PROUD OF YOU!!

CONGRATULATIONS!!

LOVE ALWAYS

CCV

Dear Jennifer & Sarah,

Your graduation represents to us that special type of accomplishment we as parents will cherish forever.

Your graduation is the start of your journey in life that we believe will only lead to success, comfort and happiness.

Your graduation represents the closing of one door to the past and the opening of new doors yet to come. Each of the last four years are chapters completed in the book you will continue to write entitled "My memories of life".

Your graduation contains a dream fulfilled, one we have had for both of you ever since that first day when we were able to call you our daughters.

Think positive, believe in yourself, keep looking forward and your dreams will come true!

All our love,

Mom & Dad

CCVI

Congratulations Ryan!

We are proud of all you have achieved at DVC.

Mom, Dad and Erin

It is shocking how quickly the time has passed.

Play in the mud, give teddy a hug

Little scrapes and big breaks

Ride a bike, long walks at night

Gator sledding, nana swimming

Basketball & softball, hockey, track

Arts & crafts, lots of cats

Sliding board, special awards

Another scardrive a car

Projects, studies, hangout with buddies

Work hard for grades, floral displays

Look at you now, cap & gown.

We are so proud to be your parents.

Congratulations,

Love, Mom & Dad

CCVII

Kyle,

May this be the start of all your dreams
coming true...
